

Telethon display bids adieu

BY CHLOE VELLINGA

Originally built as the 2017 Regional Telethon Home, the Newport by WA Country Builders has done its time on the display home circuit and will officially close its doors for the last time next weekend.

Situated on the canals of Busselton's beautiful Newport Geographe estate, the two-storey home has had plenty of foot traffic through the door, with homeowners coming from afar to admire its modern-day beach house stylings.

WA Country Builders Southwest General Manager for Sales and Marketing Peter Cherry said a range of comments were made about how its unique angled position on the block, which made full use of the space and allowed for better waterside views.

"This home demonstrates a high level of architectural detail and construction specialisation that is a signature feature of many WA Country Builders custom homes," he said.

"The raked internal ceilings and unique internal and external views from both the first and second floors create an amazing lifestyle."

Boasting a floor plan that excels in providing a central open-plan living, dining and kitchen layout, families can come together as one for intimate family dinners or branch out to the adjoining alfresco for weekend gatherings with friends.

Exuding a feeling of warmth and comfort in its rich use of materials, the Newport offers three bedrooms with a central living area, as well as a home theatre and separate office.

"The upper floor is a statement in luxury living, containing a master suite with endless views of the canals, a spacious ensuite with freestanding bath, double vanities and a walk-in shower," Mr Cherry said.

Offering over 390sqm of internal living, the impressive charity display was built on land that was donated by real estate developer Aigle Royal.

Located at 12 Lanyard Boulevard, Geographe, the display is open for viewing Saturdays and Sundays from 1-5pm until Sunday February 25.
