SOUTH WEST GONGS DENOTE TEAM EFFORT

WA Country Builders was among the big winners at the 2019 Master Builders-Bankwest South West Building Excellence Awards last month.

THE builder's South West team brought home seven awards at the event, including Project Builder of the Year in the large builder category, Best Display Home $270,000-$300,000, Best Alternative Construction Home $550,000-650,000 and Best Contract Home in four categories ranging from $300,000 through to $750,000.

WA Country Builders South West regional manager Carrie Anderson says the builder is ecstatic with the results.

"It was a great honour to receive these awards on behalf of WA Country Builders and Rural Building Company, particularly the Project Builder of the Year in the large builder category," she says.

Carrie says the awards are a reflection of contributions from all levels of the WA Country Builders team.

"From my 14 years with the company in various roles I understand how every employee contributes towards receiving these awards," she says.

"It is great for the team to be acknowledged for their hard work and dedication into every home we build.

"The appointment of WA Country Builders construction manager Jason Anderson 18 months ago has enabled us to align our construction practices across the South West and create a consistent, high-quality end product."

Jason is extremely pleased with the awards, which he says highlight the value of the staff and trades in the current building climate.

"It is very humbling to be recognised by the MBA for the consistent quality delivered by our workforce," he says.

"It takes passion and commitment by all staff and valued trades people to maintain a high level of quality across the large geographical area that is serviced from the South West office.

"I would like to thank our staff and trades people for going above and beyond day after day during a very testing period in the building industry."
